

LUKER Chocolate®

We are a family company dating back more than 110 years. We provide unique chocolate as an ingredient for other food companies and manufacture finished products for other brands.

We ensure premium quality by using Fine Flavour Cocoa and guarantee supply, traceability, and good practices of sustainability*, quality, safety, security and competence. We also comply with legal and other applicable requirements* and continuously improve our processes focusing on risk management and effective internal and external communication strategies.

To support the organization's continued success, we operate under the following principles:

- We are committed to implementing and maintaining good security practices supported by skilled personnel, safe facilities, reliable business partners and a security culture that allows for operational traceability and information protection. We work under high safety standards to prevent illicit activities, corruption, money laundering, drug trafficking, smuggling, bribery and terrorist financing in our international supply chain.
- We promote a culture of hazard identification, and the evaluation and assessment of risks and impacts for the prevention of accidents, occupational diseases, and environmental and product pollution.
- We guarantee due respect and implementation of human rights at all levels of the organization.

We are faithful to our purpose of making the world a better place, helping other companies to create products with purpose, using our chocolate as a tool for change.
